

WORKSHOP ON ACADEMIC INTEGRITY AND ONLINE ASSESSMENT

In response to the ongoing concerns in relation to the COVID - 19 virus, the University Grants Commission in Sri Lanka has encourage all Universities to promote e-learning to ensure uninterrupted university education during this prevailing situation. Continuing education as well as assessment through fully online mode could be a newer experience for universities, their academics as well as students. Hence, workshop on "Academic Integrity and Online assessment" has been organized to optimize the learning potential of integrating online assessment into online programs and courses in University of Kelaniya.

Date: 09th December 2020
Time: 8.30 am to 10.30 am

WORKSHOP PLAN

8.30 am - 9.15 am

Academic Integrity and online assessment By

Associate Professor Stephen Marshall

Acting Director at the Centre for Academic Development, Victoria University of Wellington, New Zealand
Former President (2016-2019) of the Australasian Council on Open and Distance Education (ACODE)
Co-creator of the internationally recognized and applied
e-learning maturity model

9.15 am - 10.00 am

Moodle online assessment By

Mr Nigel Robertson

eLearning Designer and Learning Technologist,
The University of Waikato, New Zealand

10.00 am - 10.30 am

Questions and open discussion

Zoom room:

<https://vuw.zoom.us/j/97558960073>
for this workshop

Organized by:
Digital Teaching and Learning Interest Group
Faculty of Social Sciences and Faculty of Humanities
University of Kelaniya
AHAED Project – Activity 4

DTLIG